filled with beauty & wishes

Home and our future. Be near me guide we new wanderers near lost, always when every place was fearless, and cool my dreams & walk with me brother and if years heart's full of sorrow we from heart to chest, forever

Let your memories die, until our roads lead us away from each other Keep walking don't rest, and promise

When we were in the desert we forgot about things, forgot about people, etc, in time. All went wild, we went our own.

I now was able to distinguish an emotional imbalance with the reality of a situation, or perhaps realized that my ~~own~~ ^{own} ~~concern~~ was to perceive a dream as reality in by all sorts of means be considered a mental instance but would that just not qualify as "living the dream"?
